

Championing Biodiversity

Biodiversity sites of Community Partners - Championing Biodiversity

PLACE	DESCRIPTION	TIME OF THE VOLUNTEERING	CONTACT
The Finchley Charities community plot at Fuel Land Allotments	The Finchley Charities Community Plot is at Fuel Land Allotments, a magnificent site for people and wildlife, which is located between Chandos Road and the cemetery on the High Road, East Finchley. The Community Plot provides sessions for teenagers with Learning Difficulties and older people who live in sheltered housing. On Wednesday, there is an open session for volunteers of all abilities, whether you have a lot of experience of food growing or none, everyone is welcome. Wear old clothes you don't mind getting dirty, boots if you have them, or sturdy shoes. Bring your enthusiasm to develop this growing project! Please note, the site is securely locked so you must arrange to be let in - telephone or email before you attend. Refreshments provided.	Wednesday 2:00pm - 4:00pm	Brigid 07780 815496 Email: Brigid. Falconer@thefinchleycharities.org
Fuel Land species monitoring for plotholders	Logging species found on site- ?? Species can ideally be logged on inaturalist or pics can be sent to Greg.	Anytime- occasional organised group meeting sessions to monitor on roadside and our own plots.	Greg Dickson email greg@frpuk.org
Castle Climbing Centre Community Garden	website https://www.castle-climbing.co.uk/garden-volunteers Volunteering description: Tasks vary across the year, and will be a mix of sowing, planting,	Induction - 10.15am on Monday + Thursday / 10.15am Last Saturday.	For more info contact: garden@castle-climbing.co.uk or visit https://www.castle-climbing.co.uk/garden-volunteers harvesting, weeding, carpentry, mending, maintenance, pruning, making products, processing herbs. Existing volunteers can come during any session, but anyone who has not been before (or hasn't been for a few years) must participate in an induction.

Organic Lea Hawkwood Nursery	google.com/url?q=https://organiclea.org.uk/get-involved/volunteer-at-organiclea/&sa=D&source=editors&ust=1789640104607990&usg=AOvVaw2pXtAAsKqiYOJinIriF-t		Gary To book your induction, email volunteering@organiclea.org.uk
Walthamstow Tool Library (WTL)	Helping to get tools ready for borrowing , admin social media, maintenance and repair and sharpening.	Tuesdays 4:00pm -7:00pm and/or Saturdays 10:00am - 1:00pm. Maintenance day one Monday afternoon a month.	Maria tools@frpuk.org